

What does Home-Start Deveron offer?

Home-Start Deveron operates throughout the Deveron Valley area, serving Aberchirder, Banff, Huntly, Macduff, Portsoy, Turriff and surrounding areas. Our core work revolves around supporting families in their own homes, but Home-Start Deveron also offers, Stay and Play groups, Baby Massage classes, parenting advice, financial guidance, one-to-one support and more.

We are expanding our home visiting support in the Huntly area, and are currently supporting the Rhythm and Rhyme Group at the Linden Centre, Huntly.

Home-Start Deveron can help families with many issues, for example:

- living in rural and social isolation with
- inadequate public transport
- drug and alcohol abuse
- domestic abuse
- living with terminal illness
- coping with post natal depression
- coping with children affected with disability
- families finding parenting a struggle

As a volunteer what would I do?

Usually you visit a family in their own home once a week for a couple of hours. How you help is really down to the family itself. Some might need someone to talk to, others may need more practical support with meal planning and cooking, reading to the children, going to the local park or finding out about local services.

Can my support and friendship really make a difference?

All parents know that those early years before children go off to school are vital and at Home-Start Deveron we believe parents have the key role in creating a secure childhood for their children. It's just that sometimes they need a bit of your help.

Do I need any qualifications to be a volunteer?

The only real 'qualification' is experience of bringing up children. Friendliness and a caring attitude are essential as well as an understanding of the pressures of parenting. We value people who don't judge others; people who will respect the fact that they have been invited into a family's home; people who will treat a mother or father as an equal.

"Thanks to my volunteer I have two hours of sanity without my year-old twins!"

What will I get out of it?

Volunteers offer their time because they want to improve the lives of parents and children. What they get back is the satisfaction of knowing that they have helped make a real difference within their community. In many cases, being a Volunteer can enhance an individual's skills and knowledge, build confidence and provide many opportunities for personal development, as well as enhance your CV and employability.

“Home Start has helped me through one of the toughest times in my life and I can't imagine how it would have been without them. They gave me support, encouragement and reassurance”

(A mum suffering from post natal depression)
